Heartrending Scenes

ABOUT THE DEPOT AT PLEASANT VALLEY, PENNSYLVANIA,

WHEN THE FUNERAL TRAIN ARRIVES FROM THE LEHIGH WRECK.

The Remains of Forty-Six Victims Taken Off at One Station and Given Into Charge of Their Friends—The Loss to the Railroad Estimated at $1,000,000. Eye-Witnesses Give Accounts of the Wreck.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 13.—The funeral train from the wreck, bearing fifty-seven sheeted bodies, many of them horribly distorted, arrived at 6:30 p. m. Thursday. One body was removed from the train here, and it then proceeded up the Delaware & Hudson road to Miners' Mills, where the body of James Flynn was left.

It was as the train drew up at Pleasant Valley that the most heartrending scenes were enacted. Ropes had been stretched about the depot, and guards kept the immense throng back. The shrieks and screams of friends and relatives were pitiful in the extreme. The first body carried out was that of Oscar Gibbons, thirteen years of age, borne in the arms of his stalwart brother; then, one after another, forty-six white-sheeted bodies were carried out and given into the charge of friends. The shrieks and cries of the women, and the hoarse shouts and imprecations of the men, made a terrible scene. When all were out the train again pulled out to bear the remaining dead to Scranton, Minooka and points beyond.

The following is an official list of the dead who have been identified:

From Pleasant Valley—Patrick Curran, aged fifteen; Michael Whalen, twelve; William Early, fifteen; James Jackson, son of Frank Jackson, fifteen; James Jackson, son of Henry Jackson, sixteen; Barney Meighan, fifty-eight; Polle Meighan, eighteen; John M. Coleman, fifty-six; Patrick Coleman, twelve; Michael Coleman, fourteen; Thomas Ruddy, thirty; Mamie Atkinson, eighteen; William Kelly, thirty-two; Mrs. Patrick Farrell, forty; Benjamin O'Brien, twenty-eight; Kate Featherston, sixteen; Lewis Doran, fourteen; John Walsh, Patrick John Early, William Keely, Abraham Doran, James Brabony, twenty; his mother also killed; Charles Golitz, sixteen; Oscar Gibbons, thirteen; Mrs. McAndrews and two sons; John Barrett, twenty-eight.

From Minooka—Annie Curran, sixteen; Richard Powell and wife, James Canoby, fourteen; Festus Mulherson, thirteen; Thomas Toole, thirty.

From Jessup—John Rogan.

From Hyde Park—Mamie Hart.

From Miners' Mills—James Flynn.

From Old Forge—W. Cusy, Katie Clark.

From Oliphant—Anna Loftus, twenty-seven.

From Scranton—Nora and Katie Quinlan, Owen Killecullen, Thomas Moore, Michael Maxwell, sixteen.

There are ten bodies still unidentified.

It is estimated that the accident will cost the railroad $1,000,000 for damage claims and the rolling stock destroyed.

One of the officials of the road states that Engineer Harry Cook of the death-dealing locomotive, was signaled to stop, but failed to heed the warning and dashed on into the ill-fated train. Cook declines to talk. He says he was not asleep on his engine, neither was he drunk.

Eye-Witnesses' Stories.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 13.—Walter McNichols, of the Scranton postoffice, gives the following thrilling account of his experience in the Lehigh Valley disaster:

"I was on the train following the one that was run into, sitting in a car about the middle of the train. The first I knew of the accident was the sudden and tremendous jarring of the train. It was about 7:15 o'clock. Two engines were pulling the train on which I was. As soon as the crash occurred the people who filled the hind train at once rushed for the doors. The jam was fearful. The people went out of the windows pell mell and the first I saw was the forward engine of our train jammed right into the hind coach of the forward train. The cars had taken fire from the broken lamps, but the flames were quickly extinguished by the use of buckets.

"The engines were fearful. Bodies were wedged in between the seats and among the broken timbers. One man was held down by the dome of the engine on our train, which had crashed upon him. Another had tried to escape by the windows of the car, but was in the crash, and had the life squeezed out of him. He was pinned between the timbers. Others were moaning and crying most piteously. Steam from the engines scalded most severely all those who were held down by the broken seats and car timber. I do not think there was one in the last car of the front train who escaped alive.

My sister, Katie, Maggie Cannon and my father were among those in the first train, and, of course, my thoughts at once went toward my own relatives. But in the excitement it was impossible for me to trace them until nearly an hour had elapsed.

"Then I found my father who was injured about the legs by being caught between the seats and my sister, who had suffered from scalds about the face and hands from the escaping steam. Miss Cannon was badly injured, mainly from scalds, and it was not thought at the time that she would recover. Joe Cannon was also in the seat with his sister and my sister, but he got off with a very slight scratch. On every hand willing persons were at work rescuing the injured, cutting the cars and taking the people away to be cared for. The scene was too terrible to witness, and a thrill of horror passes through me to endeavor to detail it."

The Rev. Father J. V. Moylan, rector of St. Peter's cathedral, who reached the scene of the accident shortly after the collision, makes the following statement:

"I saw one little cadet who had met his fate in this way; with his hands clasped together as if in prayer, and clutched close to his temperance badge. Several had their limbs chopped off in the effort to extricate them, and in the breaking of cars with axes some persons were struck on the head and killed. The number of bodies placed on the special train to come up the valley this evening was fifty-seven. One body was found across the river after the train started, and four others died in the hospitals, making the total number of deaths at present sixty-two. I consider the accident a criminal piece of recklessness," added Father Moylan, "and the conduct of the company's officials afterward cruel and reprehensible."

BOLD MAIL ROBBERY.

Large Amount of Mail Plundered at Buffalo—Amount Stolen Not Known.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 13.—An extensive and bold mail robbery was perpetrated Thursday night, by which most of the arriving mails in this city from all points were plundered, and documents, papers and money extracted. When the employees of Fulton market arrived in the morning to open the establishment they found strewn about the streets in the vicinity of the market a large quantity of letters that had evidently been opened and robbed. They collected the torn letters, which half filled a market basket. An examination revealed the fact that the robbery had been general in character, and covered letters from Canada, Pennsylvania, New York state, New Orleans, Boston and nearly every point east, west, north and south.

There were in the basket checks, drafts, mercantile orders and the usual miscellany which goes to make up a business mail. Among other things were Louisiana lottery tickets. There was a check found in which its amount $319.90, alone remained intact; bank drafts, a letter notifying the enclosure of a draft for $1,464.24, the draft being missing and numerous letters notifying of the enclosure of cash. Among the torn and soiled papers was also found a New York draft for $215.30, drawn on the Smith bank of Perry, in favor of Chris. Klinck, of Buffalo. It was torn so that the signature was indistinguishable. A check for $44.66 from the National bank of Lawrence, Pa., in favor of Jacob Dolb, of Buffalo, was torn so that the name of the signer was destroyed.

The thieves had evidently disregarded everything but cash, and checks and drafts were thrown aside after being mutilated. The postoffice authorities are investigating the matter, but no information can be obtained from them as yet.

When seen later Postmaster Sackett said the investigation showed that without a doubt the robbery took place in the postoffice, and by some person well acquainted with the office. The banks were notified to look out for suspicious characters offering checks or drafts.

Soon after the banks opened a man named John Shields, a night stamping clerk in the postoffice, presented a check at one of the banks, and upon the request to identify himself establishing his connection with the postoffice he was promptly handed over to the police.

Shields did not attempt to deny the charge of robbing the mail, and is now in custody. Shields was intoxicated when captured. The check which he presented to the German American bank, was payable to Jacob Dolb, and Shields had endorsed with his own name. The police have not been able to get any information from Shields as yet, but they suspect that he had accomplices, as no money was found on him.

Not So Easily Gotten Off Of.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 13.—An examination of the books of the Dolphin mills, New York and Paterson, up to noon yesterday, shows Treasurer James B. Cauce's embezzlements so far found to be about $10,000, covering a period of only two years. Cauce is assisting the experts in the examination of the books, and has turned over to the company property worth $8,300, and it is said the company will not prosecute. But District Attorney Gourly, ignoring the wishes of the Dolphin people, this morning petitioned Judge Dixon not to discharge the grand jury as was his intention, and the request was granted. The matter is now being considered by that body. It is believed that the amount of Cauce's embezzlement will reach $25,000.

Both Will Strike.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The Staats Zeitung, having called upon Hewitt and Grant, in the cause of the success of the National Democratic ticket, to withdraw from the race for mayor and give the opposing Democratic factions a chance to unite upon a candidate acceptable to the whole party, both gentlemen were consulted in relation to the matter. Hewitt positively declined to withdraw, as his candidacy was not in any way of his own seeking. Grant, too, having been unanimously nominated, did not feel at liberty to withdraw, but, being anxious for the success of Cleveland, expressed a willingness to drop out, provided Hewitt would do the same.

Inquiring Into the Affair.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The captain of the French brigantine Madaline, which was run down off the Newfoundland banks by the steamship the Queen, early to day visited the French consul in this city and filed an official statement with that official. The consul refused to have the statement made public. The French captain's story, however, it was learned, places all the responsibility for the disaster upon the officers of the Queen. The British consul last night heard an account of the catastrophe from the Queen's captain, and to-day will receive an official statement of the disaster from the National line people.

A Hunter's Sad Fate.

WARSAW, Ind., Oct. 13.—J. W. Makemson, a farmer living near here, left home last Tuesday morning on a short hunting expedition, and expected to return home the same evening. Tuesday night passed, also Wednesday and Wednesday night. His wife, nearly frantic, started some neighbors to search for him. They were rewarded by finding his dead body in the woods, with head entirely blown off, and the body shockingly mutilated by hogs. It is supposed he had been blown in the barrel of his gun, and the lead in the other barrel was discharged. He leaves a large family.

Helena, Montana, Built on Gold.

HELENA, MONT., Oct. 13.—While workmen were excavating for a sewer in Main street yesterday they discovered traces of gold. This part of Helena is built in the center of the Last Chance gulch, where such a stampede took place in the 60's, and there was intense excitement at once. Several pans of the dirt were washed in water and yielded fifteen cents per pan.

All Negotiations Off.

PRESIDENT YERKES PREPARED FOR A LONG SIEGE.

VERY FEW STREET CARS NOW RUNNING IN CHICAGO.

And What Are Out Are Under a Strong Guard of Policemen—A Small Riot Occurs on the North Side, in Which the New Drivers Are Assaulted With Stale Eggs.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—President Yerkes has announced that all negotiations with the street car strikers are off, and that the company is prepared for a long siege Thursday.

At 10:30 o'clock sharp three cars guarded by two patrol wagons, left the Western avenue barns at a gallop. They are under the supervision of Lieuts. Shea, Rehm, Beadell and Sherwin. The cars rounded Madison street at a gallop and started down town. Capt. Aldrich ordered that no teams be allowed on Western avenue within three blocks of the barns. The mob did not attempt to stop the cars at the start. The trip was made successful. A second trip was immediately started up and the cars returned down town without important incident.

Six cars were started on Sedgwick street and six from Garfield avenue barns in the morning. The number of officers on each car was less than Thursday, and the company intends to send out more cars if circumstances warrant it. Some obstructions were met on Center street, but they were not of a serious character and were easily cleared away.

On account of the finding of dynamite on Sedgwick street, all police officers have been ordered to be on their guard and watchful for bombs or dynamite cartridges. There was no interference with the running of the cars, except the usual jeers of the crowds.

It was rumored Thursday night that Mr. Yerkes had announced to his friends that he was in possession of full authority to hold against the strike, that he had been advised by the shareholders of both the North and West Side lines, in his syndicate, that to carry his point the loss of two years profit would be cheerfully met. This information is alleged to have given him great encouragement.

A massmeeting of West Side citizens interested in the street car strike was held Thursday night at the Republican wigwag, on Madison street near Oakley. After speeches from several business men and representatives of the strikers and passing resolutions denouncing Yerkes' management, a committee of fifty prominent citizens was appointed to urge upon the city council the necessity of ending the existing trouble.

There was another incipient riot in the afternoon at Lincoln avenue and Sedgwick street, on the North Side, where 3,000 people gathered and assaulted the new drivers on several cars with rotten eggs. One of the teams of horses became frightened and ran, dragging the driver after them. The dashed into the next car, frightening the team attached to it, which in turn ran into another car, smashing things and adding to the general confusion.

Order was finally restored by the police, however. One of the drivers who had been hit by a stale egg threw down his lines and refused to drive any more.

Several other disturbances took place. In one instance three torpedoes were exploded on the track, badly scaring the cargo of policemen in several of the cars.

It has been conclusively proven by an expert that the substance found on the Sedgwick street car track was dynamite, and that there was enough of the explosive to blow up the Chicago avenue station, or a dozen street cars. After the arrest of Conductor Katzenberg, and the finding of the dynamite on the Sedgwick street car tracks, Capt. Schaak sent for an expert connected with one of the big powder houses of Chicago, who decided it to be dynamite.

One of the packages was taken to city limits, it is said, and exploded. It plowed a great hole in the ground, besides breaking a large piece of iron placed under it to test its force.

Part of the committee appointed at the West Side massmeeting Thursday evening, met the mayor at his office at 10:30 in the morning. After a conference the committee decided to visit the headquarters of the strikers in a body and urge them to make further concessions to Mr. Yerkes. The general sentiment of the committee is that the strike must be settled at all hazards.

The committee of the West Side citizens returned to the mayor's office about 1 o'clock and announced that they had held conference with the executive committee of the West and North Sides, and that the latter had agreed to allow Mr. Yerkes to retain in his employ, in case of a settlement of the strike, all the new men employed by him since the strike began.

Yerkes' Eastern Men May Strike.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Unless the strike of the Chicago street car employees is settled at once, it seems probable that the three street car railways in this city, controlled by the Yerkes syndicate will be tied up. These roads are the Broadway and Seventh avenue line; the Avenue C and Houston street line; and the Chambers and Madison streets cross town line.

Master Workman James H. Magee, of National District No. 228, Knights of Labor, went to Philadelphia, Thursday night, for the purpose of consulting with the knights there upon this matter. The ground for the strike here is that this syndicate is sending men from New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, to Chicago to take the places of the strikers; the knights consider some action to counteract this is necessary. A tie-up of the syndicates lines in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh is also contemplated.

To Meet at Columbus.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 13.—Master Workman Lewis, of the National District Assembly No. 135, Knights of Labor, composed of coal miners, has called a special meeting to be held in Columbus, O., on December 4, to devise some method of more effectually uniting and solidifying the mining craft and preparatory to the next joint convention with the National Federation of Miners and Mine Laborers on the following day.

A Boy's Shocking Attempt at Suicide.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 13.—Hunter Varalli, the sixteen-year-old son of L. Varalli, a well known citizen, attempted to take his life at the house of refuge last Tuesday evening, and is now there at the point of death. At that time he took a can of coal-oil, poured it over his entire body, seized a match and set fire to his clothing, which was soon in a mass of flames. He is in a precarious condition, and it is not thought he can recover. Young Varalli has given his parents a good deal of trouble, and to save him from disgrace they had sent him to the house of refuge.

Closed On An Attachment.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 13.—The Brunswick hotel, located in the business center of the city, was closed to-day on a writ of attachment issued by the chancery court, on application of W. P. Crow & Son, the owners of the building. J. D. Carlisle & Company are the lessees of the property. All the furniture is in the hands of the sheriff. The plaintiffs gave as the ground for their action the failure of the lessees to pay their rent.

The Last of Geronimo's Band.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—A special from Nogales, Ariz., says the last remnant of Chief Geronimo's band of renegade Apache Indians have been captured in the Sierra Madera mountains, in Sonora, Mexico. They were four bucks, two squaws and two boys. They have been taken to Hermosillo. The leader of the band was one Elias, a Mexican, and one of the roughest characters in the southwest.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Mysterious Fire in a Fort Worth Gun Store—Blaze in Chicago.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 13.—A loud explosion was heard on Main street at 5 o'clock Thursday and shortly after the gun and ammunition store of A. Steert and the shoe store of S. M. Fry adjoining were in flames. Several hundred thousand cartridges exploded. A bullet discharged from a loaded pistol broke across the street. The loss was $45,000.

The Grand Army post lost several battle flags. The Knights of Honor lost their regalia and furniture, and Typographical Union No. 198 lost its property. While at work in the debris, a member of the truck company found a human skull, and the theory that burglars did the work is strengthened. The combination lock of the safe had been broken off and a gunnysack filled with pistols was found in the alley back of the gun store.

Small Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Several lives were saved by the prompt action of members of Engine Company No. 17 at a fire at 80 to 92 West Lake street. The fire started in the basement of 80 West Lake and extended to the building at 88 and 92, occupied by Albert Gildemeister, who kept a saloon on the ground floor and eleven lodgers above. In the sleeping-room were Gildemeister and three daughters. The lodgers were aroused by Capt. Anderson and Lieut. Case, of engine No. 17, and Mr. Gildemeister's three daughters were carried out of the house unconscious by George B. Hargan, the engineer of the company. The damage caused by the fire was about $2,000.

Lemuel Kyerly was arrested at Tipton, Ind., charged with stealing three valuable rings from Grove's jewelry store. He claims to live at Elwood.

At Evansville, Ind., Rachel, the five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Alice McNeil, was fatally burned during the absence of the child's mother by its clothing taking fire.

After making the surrounding country resemble a tin sieve with numerous borings, Wabash, Ind., has struck a gas well ten miles south of the town.

Robert H. Cowdrey and Dr. McGlynn imparted their respective recipes for making a political Utopia to a Lafayette, Ind., audience Thursday night.

The jury in the murder case of Frank Green, at Nashville, Tenn., returned a verdict of not guilty. New evidence was introduced which put a different phase upon the killing.

A little three-year-old son of Washington Wyman, of Lancaster, O., fell from a balcony to the pavement below, a distance of fifteen feet, crushing his head in a fatal manner.

Henry G. Hotchkiss, of Westhaven, Conn., a hardware manufacturer, was arrested charged with forging checks upon the Yale National bank, New Haven, to the amount of $20,000.

A man giving his name as William H. Powell, and claiming Philadelphia as his home, was arrested at Crawfordsville, Ind., for burglarizing a house. He was connected with a circus.

A new departure in journalism in Evansville, Ind., was made Thursday in the appearance of the Pilot, a negro Democratic paper. It is edited by two well known educated negroes.

James Jenkins, a pioneer resident near Newark, O., while sitting in a chair at his home playing with his little grandchild, suddenly fell forward to the floor, and died instantly of heart disease.

Asa Magard was knocked down and robbed of $100 while on his way home from a meeting of the Horse Detective association at Labanon, Ind. He had sold his cloverseed for that amount of money.

John Benning, a car accountant, shot and killed John Monahan, a brakeman, on the depot platform at Piedmont, Mo. A quarrel about a woman was the cause of the tragedy. Monahan resided in East St. Louis.

The recent hurricane tore from the bottom and destroyed much of the sponge on the coast of Cuba, and it is feared that the trade in sponges will necessarily be suspended for some time. The latest advices from the interior indicate a better condition of the sugar cane.

On reading the accounts of the London Whitechapel murders the citizens of Austin, Tex., recognized a striking similarity to the crimes committed there in 1885, and many people firmly believe that the Whitechapel murderer and the Austin fiend are one and the same person.

Why Some Republicans are Going to Vote for Cleveland.

The number of Republicans who will vote for Cleveland at the approaching election is increasing day by day.

These accessions have all been won by the courageous stand the Democrats have taken on the tariff question.

Undoubtedly it is hard for most people to break away from the party they have been supporting years and years, but when that party falls into the hands of unscrupulous and grasping monopolists who shape out a policy for it that is directly antagonistic to the principles it has advocated for years, in this event what is left for the rank and file to do? The Republican party has been a tariff reform party for many years. Its platform and the utterances of its real leaders—such as Grant, Garfield, Arthur, Sherman and many others—prove this beyond all dispute. This was previous to its last national convention. At that convention it forgot its first teachings and became the party of monopolies and trusts, declaring unequivocally against tariff reform. It offered the people untaxed whisky and tobacco instead of cheaper food, clothing and shelter.

Is it any wonder in the face of these facts that many of the Republican rank and file have decided to vote the Democratic ticket? Mark you, these Republicans say they are still Republicans, but they can not support Harrison and Morton. They have not deserted their party, they say—their party has deserted them.

This class of voters is becoming larger the nearer the election approaches. At the City of Newton, near Boston, they have formed a committee of one hundred to engage in active work for the cause of tariff reform, and issued an address bearing the signatures of one hundred former Republicans, giving their reasons for supporting Cleveland. These reasons are as follows:

1. He has been an honest, able and patriotic Chief Magistrate.
  2. He has shown reasonable independence of party in making nominations for public office and in recommending measures and principles of public policy.
  3. He has honestly enforced the specific law, and in some cases has extended its principles to office beyond its scope.
  4. He has shown himself a safe and conservative President on all questions affecting the material interests of the country.
  5. We believe that his views on the subject of the tariff and currency are wiser and safer than those represented by his opponent.
  6. We believe that the Republican party is dishonest in its position on those two questions and that it has taken its stand merely because it hopes thereby to carry the election by the aid of pampered monopolies and deceived voters.
  7. We believe that the Republican party needs to be beaten again for its own good.
- In view of the foregoing we submit to our fellow citizens who cast their votes according to their own best judgment and not merely in obedience to party, that the re-election of President Cleveland is greatly to be desired, and that they can easily help in securing that result.

An Appeal to Democrats.

The New York Graphic has adopted a novel and effectual mode of increasing the circulation of that well known illustrated paper which will appeal to the party spirit of all Democrats. The regular price of the Weekly Graphic is $2.50, and the management proposes to give half of every cash subscription until November 1st to the Democratic National Campaign fund. It is a liberal offer. Subscriptions left at this office will be promptly forwarded. Every Democrat who desires to contribute his mite to help defray the expenses of the National campaign can do so in this way, and at same time secure one of the leading Democratic weekly illustrated papers of the country for a year.

The salt of the table pays more tax proportionately than the silk of the wealthy wardrobe. The diamond of the duke is taxed lighter under the tariff than the wool hat of the workman.—Exchange.

The above is a sample of the inequalities of the tariff. The Republicans declared four years ago in favor of correcting these inequalities, but their leaders have led them off after home comforts in the shape of "free whisky and cheap tobacco."

SLIM ATTENDANCE.

The Third Day of the Germantown Fair a Repetition of the Second in Most Respects.

A Thousand People Shiver in the Amphitheater or Wade in the Mud and Water—Premium List.

The elements continue decidedly unfavorable to the success of the fair. Friday was only a repetition of Thursday—cold, rainy and very disagreeable throughout. About one thousand people were in attendance, shivering in the amphitheatre or wading around the grounds in mud and water. The show ring was in wretched condition and it was useless to try to better it, as a steady rain poured down all day. Wood fires were burning in all the tents and people chilled through and through crowded around them as if it were mid-winter.

Under all these difficulties a good show of fine horses was made. The awards in the floral hall have been made and many were comfortably stationed there, viewing the greatest display that has ever been shown in that department. The splendid arrangement and classification of the articles on exhibition show the work of an artist in this line.

The entries of stock have been greater than any previous year, the stock finer and but for the unfavorable weather the fair would have been a success financially as well as in point of merit.

Following is a list of the premiums awarded yesterday:

CHRISTIAN CHURCH—The pastor will preach to-morrow at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning subject: "Life, a Mission." Evening: "What a Sinner's Kiss Did." Young people's meeting in Chapel at 6:30 p. m. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. All cordially invited.

REV. R. B. GARRETT, will return from Simpsonville, Shelby County, to-night, and will preach at the court house to-morrow at the usual hours. The protracted meeting in which he has been engaged had resulted in twenty-five additions Thursday.

REFERRING to the recent joint discussion at that place, the Owensville Outlook says: "After speaking over an hour and a half Mr. Davis yielded the floor to Mr. Hendrick, who, in a masterly speech, discussed the issues of the day with such eloquence that held his audience spell-bound and amazed at such a flow of language from a man of such youthful appearance. Mr. Hendrick had studied his subject well, and often produced illustrations with such effect that Democrats and Republicans alike applauded."

Dr. Mackenzie's Book

SYNOPSIS OF ITS CONTENTS PUBLISHED IN LONDON.

BE SAYS EMPEROR FREDERICK'S DEATH WAS HASTENED

By the Treatment of Professor Bergmann. Starting Developments in the Parnell Libel Suit—Emperor William Receives the Italian Dignitaries in Rome—Other Foreign News Notes.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The British Medical Journal, publishes a synopsis of the contents of Sir Morrell Mackenzie's forthcoming book upon the Emperor Frederick's disease and its treatment. At the outset Dr. Mackenzie complains that in preparing his defense he has been placed at a marked disadvantage by being refused access to important documents, which were available to his assailants.

He then declares that he never deceived his royal patient as to the nature of the malady or its serious character. On the contrary, the sufferer was kept fully and accurately informed. The author has ample proof of this, and alleges that the German doctors made the charge of deception, knowing it to be false, hoping thereby to prejudice Frederick against his British adviser. Beginning with October, 1887, Dr. Mackenzie says, Professor Bergmann admitted that Mackenzie's course was a correct one. The visit to England had been arranged before Mackenzie was summoned to take charge of the case.

On the much disputed question of unskillful operations, Dr. Mackenzie says that Professor Bergmann's tracheotomy was on the whole well done, but the trachea was opened three millimetres to the right of the middle line. Bergmann's carula was of unusual shape and size, and the lower end impinged on the posterior wall of the trachea, causing gradual destruction of the tissue and resulting in intense discomfort and consequent exhaustion of the patient.

Dr. Mackenzie asserts that Professor Bergmann gave his diagnosis as secondary cancer of the lung, through finding a dullness back of the liver. Bergmann obstinately adhered to this theory, and Professor Kussmaul had to be brought from Strasburg before Bergmann would admit his mistake.

Perhaps the most serious charge made by the English physician is contained in the statement that he does not hesitate to say the death blow was given the patient on April 12, when the false passage made by Bergmann's tube caused extensive suppuration around the trachea, which steadily drained the remaining strength of the sufferer, and shortened his life at least ten months.

The statement is made that except when the false passage was made, and Bergmann thrust his finger into the wound, Frederick never suffered actual pain.

Startling Developments.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A special to the World from London says there are startling developments disastrous to the cause of the Times against Mr. Parnell and the Irish party. In the first place it is ascertained that neither Sir Richard Webster nor Sir Henry James will, as was expected, appear in court to bolster up the cause of the Times. In brief, the two men, one of whom is her majesty's attorney general and the leading Tory lawyer and the other the leading Unionist lawyer, who read out the so-called Parnell letters, formulated the charges of the Times, received his brief and opened out the lines of its defense, have deserted their client. The leadership of the Times' case will be intrusted to Mr. J. P. Murphy, Q. C., who will have Mr. Graham as his junior.

This simultaneous withdrawal both of the government's representative and of the leading legal adviser of the Unionist party, apparently reflects the opinion of Lord Salisbury and of Lord Hartington, that the case for the Times is doomed.

A detective, who has just returned from America, and who has for years been devoting his whole time to looking up the records of the alleged dynamiters, says that the Times had no prospect of proving its case, so far as he could see.

Mr. John Mallon, the chief superintendent of the Dublin police, has made up his mind to retire from the police service, and the formal announcement of his intention will be made in Ireland soon. Mr. Mallon has been summoned as a witness before the Parnell commission, and it is expected to give sensational evidence. He is now arranging to publish a book of memoirs in London, giving a good deal of inside information about the Fenian movements in Ireland.

The Kaiser and Rome.

ROME, Oct. 13.—Emperor William arrived here at 4:10 Thursday afternoon. He was met at the railway station by King Humbert, and the greeting between the two monarchs was most cordial. Large crowds lined the streets leading from the station to the Quirinal, and an enthusiastic welcome was extended to the German emperor. There was a mutual presentation of state dignitaries, from Herbert Bismarck and Premier Crispien to the arrangement is for Emperor William to be met at the residence of Baron von Schlozer by Cardinals Rampolla and Hohenlohe and Papal Nuncios Moernie and Agliardi. Thence in his own state carriage, forwarded to Rome for the purpose, he will be driven to the Vatican. This ceremonial farce is supposed to express William's neutrality as regards all differences between the Vatican and the Quirinal.

The Irridicents have scattered inflammatory bills headed "Down with the triple alliance," and similar expressions, through the streets.

The Russian Money Market Unsettled. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.—The money market here has been much agitated during the week. There have been large fluctuations in roubles, often occurring in a few minutes. A heavy fall is feared. The cause is not apparent as the result of any financial operations generally known, and may possibly result from an expectation of some important political movement.

Whipped by His Wife and Daughter. GREENFIELD, O., Oct. 13.—William W. McBaine, a prominent citizen, was out walking with a disreputable female, when Mrs. McBaine and her daughter came along and gave the husband and father and his paramour a sound horse-whipping.

THE SIOUX COMMISSION

Have a Pow-Wow With the Indian Commissioner—Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Capt. Pratt and Mr. Cleveland, members of the Sioux commission, had an interview Thursday with the commissioner of Indian affairs to arrange for a conference between the secretary of the interior and the Sioux chiefs now on their way to Washington. The delegation consisting of seventy-two chiefs, will arrive in this city to-morrow night. It is arranged that they will have interviews with the president and the secretary of the interior on Saturday. The object of their visit to the city at this time is to have a talk with the president relative to the treaty which the commission is now negotiating with them. The members of the commission expect to return to the Sioux country as soon as the visit of the Indians here is completed. This will be the largest delegation of Indians that ever visited this city and the most important since the war. They represent a population of over twenty-five thousand Indians, composing the different tribes of the Sioux, the largest and most powerful tribe in the United States.

The Famous Pan-Electric Case.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The case of J. Harris Rogers against Attorney General Garland, Senator Harris, ex-Congressman Casey Young, and ex-Indian Commissioner Atkins and Gen. Joseph E. Johnson was placed on hearing on demurrers in the district court in general term to-day. This is the famous Pan-Electric telephone case, in which Rogers was plaintiff, claiming to be the inventor of the apparatus, sought to dissolve the partnership and asked for an account, etc. He states that the agreement was that there were to be ten shares of the stock, each of the defendants owning one share, they to organize the company, and charges the defendants with misconduct in managing the business. The defendants, with the exception of Mr. Garland, did not answer, but demurred to the bill on various grounds, one of the claims being that if the plaintiff have any grievances he should have sought it at the law courts and not in equity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Judge Lorenzo Sawyer, of the United States circuit court, returned from Oregon Thursday and in court issued two writs of habeas corpus designed to test some of the questions to be raised over the right of Chinese arriving here after the exclusion act went into effect, to land. One writ was for a Chinaman arriving by the steamship Belgic, having a return certificate, and the question raised is whether congress can constitutionally deprive Chinese holding custom house certificates of the right to return. In the other case the question is as to whether Chinese without certificates in transit to this country at the time the act went into force, come under the provisions.
